Your monthly newsletter from Unity Health Toronto Library Services

November 16-22 is Digital Health Week! Library Services acknowledges the importance of digital sphere in our work at Unity Health Toronto. Throughout 2020 we’ve all made necessary strides to improve our virtual spaces and supports. Check out our resource guide on Clinical Tools and Apps, these virtual tools make clinical services considerably more efficient for patients and staff.

New Anti-BIPOC Racism Titles are Arriving!

Library Services are happy to announce that our much anticipated Anti-BIPOC Racism collection's books are arriving! Each site across the network will have its own copy of each book. For a full list of titles in the collection collection check out our blog post here: bit.ly/AntiBIPOCRacismcollection

Thank you for the support dedicated to this collection across the network. Read this story by Communications about our work on the collection here: bit.ly/Combatingsystemicracism

This is a living, ongoing initiative! If you have any suggestions for additional titles please let us know here: bit.ly/uhtrecommend.
